I can tell you what women want with a good amount of insight; I have made this simple for any of us guy. However, I can't tell you how to show a woman that you are worthy of them. I have no clue how to inform you about that. There are no books on that. This will no doubt work for us guys, I am sure of this.

There is a lot of studies on men, but we know very little about women. This means there isn't that much to cover, I believe there is just enough to learn.

If you make 35k a year and you live on your own or with a roommate, you can easily get a woman. You have no way of saying "a woman doesn't want me." I simply don't believe that you are not good enough for a woman if you make at least that amount of salary a year. 93% of women marry men with higher incomes than them when the women are college educated, this will be difficult but possible. If your income is around the same, such as $8,000 less, I am confident this statistic can be overlooked.

If you want a woman, respect people you meet. She will know that you are someone that others want to be around, all women understand this concept.

Women want guys with options. It is that simple.

You can ask a woman if they were offended by what they heard from someone else.

Above all else, show a woman that you support her. You could get any woman you want if you do this showing success from what others have to say about you.

Let a woman decide how she feels and let her decide what she wants, this is the most important aspect of all.

Communication is key, the better the communication, the more the success.

She may not give a reason, but you will know if she is not interested in you. It will not work later in life as you already know.

Start a conversation off with "what interests you?" Then contribute to it.

Women want to have fun; it is a priority for them.

If you can show a woman you want to have fun with her, you cannot possibly lose.

Give her a reason why she would want you, come with something that she would remember you for.

Go after what you want in life, she will appreciate this so much.

Women want to feel wanted.

Get her to open up to you, it is that easy.

Women don’t want to feel like they are competing with us guys. Show her that you appreciate her success.

Make clear what your intentions are.

Women want to stand out from other women. Woman put in a great effort to try to stand out from other women. Women always want the guy who they think sets them apart from other women. They are highly competitive with each other.

When you pay for dates, it makes her feel safe and secure.

Women want as much as they can get.

She may not tell the truth to you; she doesn’t view it that way.

Women are attracted to the guy who doesn’t give attention to them.

She wants the man who is the best fit and where she feels most protected with.

Women may have friends that they don’t get along with.

Women don’t want a man that works so much and has little time for them.

Just keep trying to find new women. When some don’t work out, find a new set of women that could be interested in you.

Women want commitment. It is a priority in a marriage.

Women want you to take accountability for your own life. This is huge.

Look to see if she is fully engaged with you.

If a woman is worried she will lose you in a relationship with another woman, she is in love with you.

Women want relationships to go at their own pace.

Never ask a girl to be in a relationship with you, let her decide, she will tell you. Hint at being in a relationship with her.

Have many stories for her that she would find interesting. Women want us guys to be interesting. This is difficult.

Say to her a good amount “tell me more about that.”

Try to sit close to her.

Look at her eye contact, if she gives you a bit of eye contact it is not a good sign.

Let her be who she is, it’s that simple. You could never mess this factor up.

Blonde hair women are the most likely to cheat.

She is going to notice your effort, when you put in a good effort, she will see it.

Women want to hear us guys opinions, but only for so long.

If a woman knows you will leave her if she cheats, she will respect you.

Most women view talking as a way to make a connection with us guys and to bring us closer to them.

Giving more will do absolutely nothing to getting a woman’s respect. Giving more becomes offering when it shouldn’t be.

The best place to meet women is through work through a girl’s mutual friends.

Women who work in trades or the medical field are more likely to cheat.

Try to listen and respond to what she says without bias.

Tell her that she is kind, inspiring, independent, honest, outgoing, intelligent, loyal, and that she’s a hard worker. Explain to her each value she is over time. Values matter most to a woman.

If she has moved on from past relationships, she is ready for you no concern there.

Women care if you are social and if people want to be around you.

When she fights with you, that means she cares about the relationship she’s in with you.

Women do not talk about their ex’s knowing us guys leave when they do this.

Make sure to network a good amount. Have many different women speak highly of you and she will take interest in you. The more that speak highly of you, the more women you will get.

Always take interest in her style of fashion, you cannot go wrong.

If she takes care of someone in her family in need, she is one to get with.

If she avoids offending people, she is one to get with.

Wait at least a month and a half before hooking up with a woman.

When a woman is interested in you, she is thinking long term.

Go to a park with a woman. Keep going back to the same park with her. This is key.

Make her feel heard. This is key.

Talk about herself speaking positively to her. This is key.

If you ask her questions, the conversation will continue. This is key.

If her cheeks are red when she is talking to you, she is blushing. This is key.

Show her you are knowledgeable in a subject. This is key.

Talk to her about what she is interested in. Ask several questions about what she takes interest in. This is key.

Women look for something they can hold on to such as a photo of a memory. This is key.

Talk to her about her feelings. This is key.

Ask her a good amount about events that have happened to her that are good. This is key.

When the values are in line, it will work from there and on. This is key.

Ask her if she is passionate about her field or what she believes like helping the environment, be sure to talk about it a lot. Show her you want her to continue her passions. This is key.

Be direct with a woman. This is key.

Show her that you can manage finances. This is key.

If she compliments you, say “thank you” and then compliment her back. She wants to be complimented; this is key.

One if not the best thing you can do for a woman is to try to understand her with a consistent effort. This is key.

She wants to see if you are interested in her. This is key.

Find thing you have in common with her. Share stories of the things you both share. This is key.

She wants to see if you can connect with her emotionally. This is key.

Women love attention to detail. This is key.

Remember the details she shares with you in a conversation. This is key.

She wants to be active in her life.

You have to show a woman that you put the foot down when she is out of line. This will make her attracted to you. This is key.

Show her she can reach higher goals. This is key.

Go for walks with a woman. This is key.

Women love empathy. Show empathy to her and others, this is key.

Women want to feel understood. This is key.

Ask her consistently “are you happy?” Assure her that this is your goal for her. If she is not happy, ask “what can I do to fix that?” This is key.

Cheer her up, this is key.

If she had a bad day at work, listen to her talk about it.

Women want to feel “free”, whatever that means to you. What I mean by this is “liberated” for lack of a better term.

She wants a guy to hold her hand.

Women dress the way their female friends dress.

If she doesn’t appreciate the first date, try again and then give up after the second date.

Talk about your problems to your guy friends not your wife.

If you hunt, most women will be into this.

When she says “get off your phone” she is saying she wants more attention from you.

If she is ever hurt emotionally, look her in her eyes and tell her “I understand you are hurt, and I will put in my effort to make sure you feel supported in any way need be”.

Don’t let her get jealous of other women, tell her how important she is to you.

If you do a side job, tell her about it.

Women want a leader.

Go to places local where she lives so she remembers you when she drives by the places you went with her to.

Women question many decisions they make in their life such as their career.

Women want us guys to understand their feelings. They want to talk through their feelings. Ask her if she feels better after talking. Try again another time.

Women compete with each other so much. Make it so she doesn't want to compete as much. When she wants to compete with other women or is jealous of another woman, listen to her when she talks about it. Be consistent with this, if she knows you believe this about her, she will want to be around you. What you can tell her is, "You do a great job, you are supported."

Women like compliments from men more than they do women. This means when us guys compliment women, it goes further towards having a relationship with them.

Compliment her a decent amount.

Women are concerned they will get into a bad relationship with a guy.

Ask a woman when she is at her peak of happiness.

My advice is to have conversation after conversation with her no matter the length.

If she always makes an effort to talk to you and she's smiling, she's very much into you.

Ask her what her boundaries are early on. Tell her that you respect people's boundaries.

Women love to give their opinion on things. Ask her for it. This is very important.

Take note if she treats you differently from others. Don't look too far into it.

If she sees that you are enjoying life, she will want to be with you.

Ask her often what she wants to talk about.

Women may act a certain way to see how us guys respond to test us.

Women want boundaries in a relationship because then they have a good sense of what will bother us guys. Without boundaries, she feels insecure.

If you can show a woman that she can better put herself out there, it goes far for her to like you.

If you are patient with her, she loves this.

Check for signs that she is opening up to you. For instance, if she is explaining many details about herself to you. That means she wants to explain herself to you because she wants your respect and understanding. Try to get her to keep opening up to you, the more she invests in you, the more she will like you. If she opens up to you and encourages you to do the same, she is into you.

You have to find a woman that likes you for who you are and realizes you are trying to reason with the fact that she wants you to be a certain way. You have to tell her this is who I am, this is who you are, that's what works between us.

When she goes to some event, ask "what did you think of it?" It is that easy to ask.

When women make mistakes, they want to see that us guys just pass it off as if "whatever."

If she doesn't want to talk about her previous relationships for any reason, be it positive or negative, that is a good sign. This means she wants to move on from her past relationships.

A woman is looking for if you can have conversations with other people when you go out.

"I will listen to you vent" say this to a woman.

Opposites do not attract, do not listen to this.

She may tell you one thing one week and one week the next.

Women look for if us guys understand what they think in the current moment. It one thing they look for the most.

Women take it much more personal when other women insult them than when men do. Women avoid insulting each other as a result.

Women want you to be down for amusement, be part of the experience going on. So, watching a movie together, you are engaged with her.

What is crucial is to make sure she wants to be in a marriage, I have no clue how to ask this or how to notice it in a woman.

If she says no to a date, don't stick around.

Show her you can use smartphone apps. Smartphone apps are so easy to use. She will appreciate this.

She may say one thing to you one week and then another to you the next about something relating to you and her.

Women want to know early on if you are into them or not. I wouldn't recommend telling a woman if you are.

Over 95% of women want a masculine man who has some degree of it.

She wants to see you greet others you meet in the public that you can make many friends.

If she only hits you up when she needs something, she is taking advantage of you, break it off with her.

Women love guys who take command. That is what they want to hear and see about.

Have a clean place, she will appreciate this.

Women are attracted by what they hear.

If there are no boundaries, she will push you around.

She will try to create controversy to see how you respond to it. She does this to see if you still like her. She will do this a good amount of time.

The best thing you can do for a woman is keep listening to her.

Many women want to be number one in us guys lives.

A woman wants independence.

If you don't want to go out with her anymore, tell her, "It was great meeting you tonight. I want to be fully transparent with you. I did not feel the chemistry. I hope you well in the future."

If she asks to hang out with you first, she is strongly into you.

We all know that women never want to feel used.

If she sends you photos of just herself through social media where she tries to look nice, she is most likely into you.

Find a woman that makes it clear she wants to be self-sufficient.

She is looking for if you show interest in her.

Talk about stories from your childhood.

Women do not apologize.

Women will never tell us guys if they are into us or not. We all know that.

Women ask their girlfriends if they should go on a date or not.

Women will use as much time to prepare for a date as they can.

Women are looking for first impressions.

If she has a song that you both like and you tell her that it is a song for both of you, she will love this.

When you see an attractive woman besides her and it doesn't affect you at all, she likes this a lot.

If you advocate for her in group settings, she will appreciate it.

Women love guys who break the rules, but only so much of breaking the rules.

Fina a woman that has similar energy levels.

The more you are involved in, the more interest she will take in you.

If she says, "I can definitely beat you in a race", she is flirting with you.

She wants to be called by her name; she appreciates it.

Women like seeing our forearms.

Many women prefer indirect communication.

She wants a card or letter for Valetine's day.

If she stands taller, she wants your attention.

Women want to get married because they want commitment.

We all know this; women don't want to feel less.

Make sure you are willing to walk away from the women you are with.

Find a woman at a coffee shop, a bookstore, a college, volunteering, or an organized group. Not a gym of course.

Women tell other women that us guys do not talk enough, we don't listen, we never share our feelings.

Women are jealous of one another, it happens frequently. What results from this is women want more attention from others. She will want to be the center of attention. Women think attention from others will fix this for them, it doesn't.

Women want to keep us guys wanting more so they keep details away from us guys. What you can do is keep asking for more details about her, this will invest her in you.

If you are too into fitness, women shy away from guys like this.

A woman does not lose sleep over a guy she doesn’t like.

Women love it when us guys invest time with them.

Women compare themselves to women who are famous on social media.

If you get along with her nieces and nephews, it goes far.

Women want to be taken seriously; this is important to them.

If she acts shy around you, she could be into you.

If she doesn’t know how much you are attracted to her, she will be more into you.

If you can multitask, she will appreciate this to some degree.

If you do a task for a woman, she won’t want to do a task for you, it upsets her when you ask her to do a task for you. Women want to do the task together with you. However, if she appreciate doing a task for you, she will do it herself.

For your friends and family, introduce her as your wife. She wants to be told this.

Women look for how us guys treat the waiter at a restaurant.

If women see that us guys are good to the woman us guys are with, many women will be into us guys, women take big note of this.

Women love when they feel that they don’t need anything else in the world but the one guy they are with.

Tell her a good amount “I appreciate how you listen to others passing no judgement.”

Tell her “You seem like a cool girl; do you want to exchange numbers sometime?”

Tell her “I got this all under control.”

Tell her “I would like to know more about you.”

Tell her “I like your way of thinking.”

Tell her at times “I respect the decisions you make with your life.”

Tell her a good amount, “I got this handled.”

Tell her “I’ve had a good time chatting with you.”

Tell her often “I want you to reach your goals and dreams.”

Tell her about events you are looking forward to in your life. Speak positively about these future events.

Tell her “There’s so much to be said about you” to a woman.

Tell her “You appreciate me.”

Tell her that you enjoy your job, and it keeps you engaged.

Tell her that her work is good with whatever hobby she does.

Tell her about your education and the field you work in.

Tell her “I will not quit” during the hardship in the relationship.

Tell her how good she looks without makeup.

Tell her often “I am here to support you.”

Tell her that you had fun after the date is over.

Tell her that she has good judgement.

Tell her “I want your opinion on something.”

Tell her “I got to know you; you are a good person.”

Tell her “I appreciate your support.”

Tell her “I want to see you.”

Tell her “I want to support you being independent.”

Tell her “It feels good how I can be myself around you.”

Tell her “I appreciate how you be you around me.”

Tell her “I could do this better.”

Tell her “I like your way of thinking.”

Tell her “People respond well to you.”

Tell her “I really like spending time with you, we should do it again sometime.”

Stop her in the middle of a sentence and say to her “wow, you are beautiful.”

When she takes interest in a matter that is justice based like being against war, tell her “You stand up for what is right, you are not afraid to take a stand.” Tell her she is doing the right thing.

Ask her “what did you learn from the experience” when she talks about a story.

Ask her often “what’s on your mind?”

Ask her often, “how are you feeling today?”

Ask her, “what are you known for? She will talk about her personality when you ask.

Ask her, “where do you see yourself in five years?”

Ask her what her typical day looks like for her.

Ask her “what is your favorite quality about yourself?”

Ask her “what are you thinking about?”

Ask her “what is one thing you want to accomplish this year?”

Ask her “did you learn anything new recently?”

Be sure to ask her often “how are you doing?”

Ask a woman where you want to go such as movies, dinner, or brunch. Give her the option and give her many different options.

If she draws, ask her about it.

If she’s eating food and you meet her early on, ask her if the food is good to start the conversation.

If she is wearing a sweatshirt with a college on it, ask if she has been there and if she enjoyed the experience there if she went to it.

Text her that you are at somewhere and you want to get her something.

Talk about her deepest fears with a woman. Be casual about it when asking, ask for a few and then build off it.

Ask a girl for advice on a topic she is interested in.

Be careful not to ask too many questions. Ask a fair amount, spread the questions out.

You need to be willing towards her ideas. Ask a good number of questions.

The more time you spend with her, the more time she will be invested with you. It’s that simple.

Give her minor tasks to do that she would enjoy doing that will keep her engaged.

Say to a woman “I’m impressed” if she has a skill or does good at her job.

Teach a woman something new to her that she doesn’t know.

Women look for self-awareness in us guys, it’s a trait they look for.

If you tell her that you are busy on multiple occasions, she will think you are not into her.

Talk to her friends a good amount, this makes her know you better.

Learn what women think. A guy who can share experiences with her talking about what she wants will no doubt be with her long term.

Some women like to be told they are wrong by us guys, some don’t. Ask her what her feelings are towards it.

Women like us guys who wear black jeans.

If you talk about yourself too much, she will be shut off in a conversation.

Women are looking for similarities they have with us guys.

When you first meet a woman whether she is into you or not, she will give you her best impression.

If she goes on a second date with you, she is impressed with you.

One of the first things a woman notices in us guys are our hands.

Tell her every now and then that you will work on how you both communicate with each other.

No matter how high her IQ is, you can show her you are her leader. At the end of the day, you decide matters for her at times. Even if the idea was hers, you approved the idea.

Greet her when you meet her every time.

Celebrate the success of others. Women appreciate this a lot.

Women want to feel relaxed with us guys.

Women are attracted to guys that are taller than them because they believe they are more secure around them.

Find many different fields to talk about with a woman with. For instance, places you have both been.

Women want to see that us guys don’t care what other people think.

She notices your body language and clothing first.

Women like us guys in suits the most.

Women want us guys when we are with our wives because women figure it works well since us guys are with our wives.

When you tell her about your job, try to make it sound as professional as possible and tell her that the company is expanding.

Women take good notes of stretches or marks on their body when no one else notices it.

Find a reason to appreciate her. Give her a favor for her to do for you a good amount for you. Make sure the scale of it isn't too small. You will appreciate her for this, and she will recognize it.

Show that you will be just fine without her, women find this incredibly attractive.

If she never wants to hang out with you but immediately messages you back when you stop messaging her, she is using you for validation.

Talk about your personal experience in the topic she is talking about with a woman.

Talk to a group of girls instead of one. This goes so far.

If she is in a relationship with you, she visualizes the next 20 years with you.

If she leaves her belongings at your place, she does that as an excuse to see you earlier.

The best thing to tell a woman is that she is authentic, smart, or intelligent.

Talk about her personality, speak highly of it, she will enjoy this a lot.

Women want to hear that when us guys are busy, that we will hit them up afterwards.

You can start a conversation over what social media apps she uses such as Instagram, Twitter, Facebook, TikTok, Snapchat, and WhatsApp. You can talk about which app you like, and which ones you don't. There is bound to be common ground there. She will talk about her social media so much.

Prepare for a conversation with a woman on a date.

Tell her you have no problem with her doing what she wants.

If she feels women are discriminated against, listen to her.

Women will always tell us guys that they dress for themselves and not for us guys.

Women want to see that us guys have a "sensitive" side. So, what you can do is say "gosh, I was hurt emotionally by this event, I wanted that certain friend to get along with me. I reached out to her and all."

Try to make sure that a woman doesn't get that you are superior to them.

Women look for your reputation.

Show a woman you like her, don't tell her.

If she comes to you with a problem she has, listen to her, don’t give her a solution. Only give her a solution if she asks.

Women connect with us guys from an emotional connection.

Talk to her about childhood memories.

Look for if she is grateful of you.

Get her to want to learn more about you.

Try to get her to believe she has to give a good effort around you.

Most women like to talk through their problems. Women gain the most relief for themselves talking about them in detail. Ask her to talk about a problem she has in more detail.

Talk about the weather with her.

Women want us guys who are genuine above all else.

Text her at most 3 days a week spread up, this causes her to look forward to those days you text her.

Women love to laugh. Make a woman laugh. The more you make her laugh, the higher you are to them.

Say to a woman “I really like you; I just don’t know that much about you.”

Tell stories and share information about yourself on a date. This is the best method for dates.

As a woman on a date if she had all the money in the world and she was retired, what she would do with it.

If her friends are looking towards you, she is talking about you.

Whenever a disagreement emerges, show her you want to make it work.

Women are very afraid of rejection.

If a woman asks you what your plans are in the weekend, she wants to go out with you.

If she goes on a date with you, that means she wants to know you better.

Women want us guys to assume well about them. Say “I understand where you are coming from” when she clarifies herself.

If she smiles at something she says, she really likes to talk about it. Talk more about it with her.

Women don’t want us men to compare ourselves to others with standards.

Women want to see if us guys ask for what we want and get it.

Talk 30% at most during a date with a woman.

The more she speaks, it makes you seem like a better listener.

Text a woman you are with asking her if she got home safe.

Talk about songs with her what experience she got from listening to it.

You need to have something to do with her to invite her over to your place or else she is not going to come.

Women want a guy that has a carefree demeanor around them. This shows confidence.

Women want to be relaxed.

If she is in the other part of a restaurant with her friend and she moves beside to you with her friend, she wants to talk to you.

She needs 20 to 30 minutes transition time from work to home when she comes back home.

If you are not what she deems to be attractive, she will never want you. Ask her early on if she says somewhat then it is enough.

Show a woman you can do self-defense.

If she asks, “where are we”, she wants to be in a relationship with you.

When she’s having a bad day, be there for her. It really is that simple.

Give her reason to believe you are an interesting person.

I don’t know if seeing a therapist helps with getting a woman to like you more since she would believe you are putting in the effort. Honestly, I wouldn’t recommend doing so unless if you think it goes far in getting a woman to like you more than do it. There is no study on if women like guys who seek help more. From my perspective, it varies from woman to woman. I absolutely recommend it; but ask beforehand to a woman if it means a lot to her if you seek help from a therapist, you can call for 30 minutes a week easily. She will tell you honestly what it means to her and I’m sure she will tell you it means a lot to her. A therapist said his female clients don’t prefer their husbands and boyfriends to go to counseling he said they don’t suggest it.

3 out of 4 women find us guys that wear sunglasses more attractive.

Notice how she talks to other people, see if she can have a conversation with most people. If she can she is a girl you will want to get with.

Talk mostly about her and neutral conversations.

Women like when you open up to them. No early on though.

If she wants to meet your friends and your family, she is trying to integrate herself as part of your life.

If you want to win a woman over either, be funny or find good humor she would like.

Women want a support. All they are really looking for is someone who will do tasks for them that they don’t want to do on a given day or have someone listen to them. Once you show them this, I have no doubt they will want you. You don’t have to be this “protector” that “provides” for her like you hear from “red pill.”

You have to figure out how you fit in with a woman’s life and how she fits in with yours.

Try to help her fulfill her dreams, this might be the best thing you could ever do.

You can’t just tell a woman “I’m busy”, you have to keep up and put her first on your list to talk to meaning you have to make time at least every three days.

A woman wants you to feel that you want her to come out with her friends versus having you ask if she wants to go along.

Treat her friends like your own.

When an ex is brought up, tell her what you learned from it, leave it at that.

Be proud of her, she will notice and appreciate it so much.

The most important day in a woman’s life aside from having children is getting married. It is their moment.

Cook her breakfast after knowing her. It is easy and it is appreciated by her.

Have a woman talk about herself, her friends, or her hobbies and build off it. Talk at least a small amount about yourself and your life to show that you have a life, if she is interested then talk more about your life. This is a step in the right direction.

You don’t have to be feared at all. I can’t say if it helps or not, it is maybe from me.

Women love men that can play a sport of some kind. The first men who are picked in today’s world are sports players such as soccer players.

Most of the time, she doesn’t want to pick the place for a date.

The best thing you can do is show that you have a plan for men to emulate your character. This shows that not only do you know what you are talking about, but you know what it takes for others to excel in life, showing leadership. This is huge for you to do.

Always pay at least half towards expenses so you don’t seem cheap on a date.

Go to the beach a great amount, it doesn’t have to be every time a place to go but it should be up there.

Hiking is a good hobby to pick with a woman, you don’t have to pay to explore. Parks are even better.

Travel, explore in any way possible, even the state next to yours is traveling. This goes far.

Avoid going to the gym, unless you are doing it to show you are active but there are plenty of other ways. This can create jealousy.

It’s better to overcommunicate than to under communicate.

Show a woman you want them to succeed in life. Show her that her goals mean so much to you.

Show a woman that you know what you want in a woman to show that you don’t just take any woman you can find.

Don’t ever say “you are overreacting.”

Don’t debate a woman, try to agree with a woman, change the subject when something controversial is brought up where you both disagree on.

You can’t put that much into the first and second date.

Women want the choice to do and think what they want, you have to give them that.

Try to have these traits: kind, ambitious, educated, friendly, enjoyment of cooking, leadership isn’t needed, have hobbies, take care of women, genuine, authentic, possibly be a women’s best friend, and figure out how to do things by yourself.

Race her, don’t let her win.

Try again hours later if you both argue over something. Sometimes it works, sometimes it doesn’t.

Be in touch with her.

Be cooperative.

Women want 24/7 of your time when you are in a relationship with them. Women will give you an indicator of when they need their space.

A person I met at the psych ward who is very smart told me that women with schizophrenia are “too much work” I agree with this 100%

Most women believe they are “cute”

Take it one step at a time with a woman.

If she says, “I’m fine” that’s her way of saying that she’s not doing ok.

If she says, “we need to talk” that is not a good sign at all.

If she says, “I don’t care”, she probably does care.

Give her your sweatshirt.

Go on a road trip with a woman.

If she says “I will be ready in 5 minutes” it means she will be ready in 15 minutes.

Keep making it seem that you want to understand her and make it work. Talk about the effort she is putting in.

Try to be lighthearted with women 85% of the time.

If she has earphones on, that means she wants to be left alone.

She wants to be challenged and motivated daily by you to be better.

Your best bet for a date with a woman is to take her to a place to eat dinner.

If she is vegetarian, talk to her about what will be done in the future for vegetarians to expand.

Women say one thing and then do the other. When they are least interested in you then they want you. One hour they are angry, the next hour they are happy.

Women want confidence in a man, they love it. Be confident in both you and her. The more confidence, the more they will enjoy your presence. The most confident of us guys get the most dates.

Show her that you take religion seriously. It goes a long way. Be creative with how you present religion to her, I trust you with that no doubt. It shows her that you want her to have a connection with God because you have a connection with God. If she enjoys religion or is neutral towards faith, it will work out well. If she dislikes religion, then it will not work at all.

If her sons and daughters mean the most to her, she is a woman you want to be with. She will tell you it to.

Buy her junk food, she will appreciate it.

If she has strong family ties, she is one you will want to be with.

Show women that you let children do what they want during the time but that you are still the one with the final say with them.

Women whine sometimes if they cannot get your time at the moment.

The more you talk about a woman you like who you are trying to move on from, the more you will think of being with her. Best to never to even mention her ever. Don’t speak positive, negative, or neutral about her, just say nothing about her.

If you develop feelings towards a girl, you are not just attracted to her, you also like her personality yet it may not seem that way when the girl has such little in common with you.

Friends of women’s friends will very rarely tell a woman you are married to that she should drop your number; they trust her judgement even if you are very conservative and they are very democratic, this is a great thing!

At least 60-80 percent of women want both a “bad boy” and a classy ambitious man, they can never get both it will be one or the other.

If she constantly says she doesn’t trust you, leave.

Women are always competing for I don’t know what with each other, I think status. Every woman has jealousy in them, and women have jealousy worse than the average man.

Try to never be all over the place with a woman. Don’t be too much like a businessman selling a car like an offer to a woman.

Don’t talk too much, let the woman talk. Speak cool, calm, and poised.

Don’t ever generalize women for anything. It offends all women. It is seen as prejudice against women.

Don’t ever bring your outside problems into a marriage. Resolve them yourself unless if your wife is willing to be a part which happens rarely with women. Most women don’t want the stress it brings.

Don’t ever bring up a crush you had, it will make the woman you are with jealous and want to end a marriage with you.

You don’t ever want to seem too into a girl.

Make sure to give her your attention when she asks for it, this goes far.

Make women laugh.

Text her rarely.

You get a sense when a girl is into you. Whether she is into you or not, there is no in-between.

Display that you are trustworthy in some way to a woman.

Always trust her.

Be understanding.

A woman does not care if you as a guy have no relationship with your mother. If you don’t get along with your mother at all they don’t care.

Usually, women have a far more important and meaningful relationship with their mother and not their father. Win over her mother, her father is nowhere near as important.

Don’t lose your temper around a woman.

When you hear “no”, it is always “no.”

Keep your word good.

Don’t shame her for the mistakes she makes, that one is kind of obvious.

Don’t talk about your ex negatively in front of her if you have to talk about your ex, best you don’t talk about your ex ever.

Be thoughtful and compliment her. If she gets excited when you compliment her, that is a sign.

Show that you respect her.

Put good thought into the gifts you buy her. Give her unexpected gifts.

Don’t always take things so seriously, she won’t feel safe around you if you do this.

Always call her back, it shows you care.

Always remember important dates such as birthdays and anniversaries.

Share your emotions. Women are grateful when you show your emotions.

Share your opinions or ideas with her.

If a woman cheats, that means she is emotionally in love with another guy.

Care about what is important to her so if it is her best friend, show you want to make it work with her best friend.

Show that both of you are in it together.

Show her to your friends.

Give off hints that you are into her or no hints at all. She really likes this.

Never take her for granted.

Try to understand what is important to her like her goals of being a boss at her job.

Talk about what you like about her.

Value her ideas.

If she is a pescatarian, talk to her about how most people are not.

Remember and care about the little things about her.

Be honest with her.

Don’t hide secrets with her.

Show your appreciation for her daily.

Don’t check your phone during dates at all. I personally don’t see the issue here but that’s how it works.

Tell the woman you love her.

Make sure she knows she’s the only one for you.

Learn to read signals.

If she says no to a date, never ask again. If she says she wants to go on a date months later, that’s the only way.

Don’t ever joke about a woman that would be perceived as misogynistic, this might be the worst thing you could ever do.

Give a woman a hug when she feels comfortable.

Accept the woman for who she is to the best of your ability.

Make the woman feel special in some way, get creative about this to make this possible.

The minimum to ask a girl out for a relationship is two weeks.

If a woman changes their mind about you where it goes from bad to great where you get a good sense she has, that's your signal she is really into you.

Women like to hear "please" and "thank you".

Don't change or break plans. Be on time.

Celebrate your anniversary.

Concerts and festivals are good places to meet women.

Farmstands are a good place to meet women.

Do the chores without having to be asked.

Notice when her day is bad before she tells you. For instance, if her car needs to be repaired and she needs a ride, offer her the ride without having to have her ask first.

You don't have to treat her like a queen, but make sure you are on her team.

If you offend a woman, ask her "what do you mean by that?"

Look a woman in their eyes. You just have to do a moderate job at this for the woman to understand your efforts.

Smile around a woman. She will really like this.

You don't have to work out with a woman, but they enjoy it no doubt.

Be honest with your feelings.

You can't always be serious; you have to be silly at times.

Be down to earth to the best of your ability. Women love this.

Don't send her a text saying "I really like you" it comes off as needy.

She wants to see that you want to make it further in your career.

Cook something that stands out to her that she will keep coming back for.

After a date, tell her that you have a meeting and that you have to exchange digits and leave. It comes off as professional that you only have so much time.

Women don't care for your social media whether you have one or not if it is well known or not.

If she touches her neck, sometimes when talking to you, that is a very good sign. It stands out, you will notice it.

Women don’t like us guys cussing more than occasionally.

Women are very pleased when you treat their sons and daughters from a previous relationship well. It shows that you are a good role model and a leader. Women care a lot for their educations of their sons and daughters, if you show interest in teaching them knowledge, it goes a long way.

Joke over something small saying “this could not work” with a woman on a date.

Most women like chivalry, a minority don’t.

Most girls probably all want to be noticed, that’s why they own so much material.

If she agrees with your many of interests, that is a sign and is not a sign. But if she seems ambitious to talk about it, it most likely is a sign combined with other things on the list.

If she asks, “why don’t you have a girlfriend” and not “you should have a lot of friends you are ambitious”, that is a sign.

Only when you absolute have to argue with women then argue with them.

If she says, “it’s cute when you do this”, she is saying you are cute, she is definitely into you.

Look for if she wants to keep the conversation going, this may or may not be a sign, but it is a good indicator she wants to talk to you more. The same for if she remembers details about you that she says she likes about you.

Make sure your apartment is clean for a woman.

If a woman needs you to pay for rent where she cannot pay for rent herself, she will see a good need of you. This is good.

A study was done in 2012 that showed women give out their numbers triple the amount when you have a cute dog.

If she lets you in her apartment alone, she is most likely into you.

It’s fine if she doesn’t want to answer follow up questions.

If a woman blinks more frequently around you, read that as a sign but don’t take it for a fact.

If her friends make an effort to leave both you and the woman alone, that is a great sign.

If she chats with you constantly on social media, that is a clear sign.

Women like to talk about their religious and political beliefs that they are strong about, you will know which ones feel strongly about. However, they only like to talk about their strong religious and political beliefs for so long, you will know how long they start to change the subject and don't want to go back to talking about their strong religious or political beliefs.

All women like when you can keep the conversation alive and ongoing.

The way a woman dresses is a reflection of the guy they want.

Keep practicing dialogue to get better talking to women.

Use TV or movies to wind down the conversation if it is going bad with women. Movies or TV shows are a safe bet for a date to get to know a girl and to have dialogue about it.,

It depends on your delivery, on how to present your views, that way you are not pushing it on them. It is obvious when they push their beliefs towards you.

Woman won't make eye contact if they are uncomfortable, they will look far away.

Never ask a woman what her salary is.

Try to be positive around a woman.

Most women love beards. Women like thin beards the most. Women love short-boxed beards. Beards show maturity and leadership to a woman.

Find a part that both you and she enjoy that you can keep back to, versus many different locations. This also includes a café. With restaurants there doesn't have to be one that you go to all the time though that can help.

If she looks up as you walk away, that means she is attracted to you.

A woman wants to be seen and known by the public. If you can pick the right places to go with her, you win.

Be fair with a good effort.

Be cool, calm, and collected.

Give her privacy when need be, she will appreciate this a lot.

Use words of affirmation often.

Show that you care.

Say to her you are fun but in different ways since she is in her 30's.

Women love to be appreciated and receive compliments from men. I've seen it firsthand.

Always open the door for a woman.

Show a woman that's into you that she's on your mind.

Sarcasm is good buy only for so much of it when you talk to someone in the public, women will appreciate it because it shows you can have a good time, the goal is to have fun with a woman.

Make their pet happy, this goes a long way.

Women above all else want to feel appreciated.

Know her likes and dislikes.

Notice details about her.

Always make her a priority.

Above all else, be loyal to her.

Always make her feel safe in whatever place you get.

Be self-aware.

If she is wearing anything sports related, that is a conversation starter for you.

You have to bring something to the table with women. You need a hobby they would want to hear about.

Don't try to impress on the first date, just try to have fun and get to know her.

Women generally like guys that are into watching sports, it shows that you are engaging, and you want to be part of something to share with others. There are some women that don't like men who like watching sports at all where they don't like sports one bit. They may say they are a fan of a team, but they aren't at all. Women do not like when us guys yell when a sports team loses.

Try not to hold grudges against people you meet.

Try to rarely complain.

Accept what she believes, she knows you may have big differences in political matters, and she knows you want to make it work.

Share social media with her and her friends she would like.

Be very social, women love this.

Women love a guy who kids love to be around, it goes a very long way.

Talk to a woman you are into a good amount not too much. This will make her into you, the more you talk to her, the more time is spent on her thinking about you. It works that easily.

Most girls don’t like it when guys wear sandals on, they want guys to always wear good shoes.

Always care for a woman, that’s what they want first.

Women love when you show concern in them. Do this a good amount, maybe three times a week but not five. Only say it once a day. Be wise and say, “this is what concerns me”, when you show a woman this, it is an instant conversation.

Show her that her emotions matter.

Show that you are willing to stop what you are doing to talk to them to support them.

If a woman feels she is not being respected, the marriage ends fast.

Make sure to say “I love you” to your wife.

Don’t criticize their friends or family.

Don’t ever be assertive with a woman.

Always show that you are taking interest in what she does and what she believes. If there is something she does that you don’t agree with just say I don’t want to talk about it.

Be a good cook. Cook dinner for her once in a while. Always appreciate her cooking. Cook with her for a date.

Remember that if a woman does not see you succeed and get what you want out of life, they feel it falls on them since the woman is your partner. You have to keep showing a woman that everything is going smooth. Show them that there is so much room for growth in the future and there is so much more to do with her. Ambition goes so far in a relationship. A woman wants to see you happy above all else.

If you can show a woman that you can manage everything with or without her support, there is simply no way she would ever leave you.

Women like men who like adventure, they themselves love to adventure. They want an adventure in life of any kind.

If she acts differently around you, this is a great sign. If she does act differently and you think she doesn’t have a crush on you, then you will know.

If she raises her eyebrows when she sees you a lot, that is a good sign.

If she is giggling, this is a good sign.

Women want a man that is respected, not a man who gets in battle after battle. Giving time to her means a lot to her, battles distract from this. Remember, a woman’s time is valuable. You can fight battles but pick and choose them.

Show her that you believe in justice to some degree, don’t make it all your life though. A good amount at most, a fair amount I would say is best.

Give a woman the sense you are pushing them to be the best they can be.

Always be patient with a woman.

Avoid being sarcastic to her, a bit is ok.

Find a woman that cares about you and will spend the time to work with you during a rough day.

Don’t be condescending with a woman. It will never work, it’s not terrible, it just isn’t good.

Don’t tell a woman how to feel, females despise this.

When a woman wants to talk for hours on the phone, you will know she wants you.

You can give your observations of her challenges to what degree they are affecting her. She will like this provided if she is going through a tough time and you say, “you’re not doing bad at all”, just avoid that.

Make sure to get to know a woman first. If you have a crush on a girl, make sure it is not for looks alone that you have a good amount in common with the woman.

If she waxed her body, that is a good sign that she likes you.

Women prefer not to talk about their stressors in life, they would rather talk about what brings them joy such as their hobbies. They are willing to talk about their stressors and sometimes they will mention them to you. This means talk about hobbies, yes there are women however that talk about it a lot which I have seen. Yes, also you will have to talk about drama with them.

Show that you value their opinion.

If they introduce you to others, it is a sign they want to get to know you better.

Know how to respond when she gets upset.

Give her small status updates where you are going.

Try to find out what is special to her be it her books, her art, her pets, her job, her family, or her friends. Talk about it with her. She will appreciate this so much that you take interest in what is important to her.

Most women don’t want to answer personal questions.

Women don’t like repetition.

You can only say positive things about a woman’s looks.

Don’t come off too strong that you want to be with a woman.

Women want to turn bad boys “good” in a marriage.

Women have a checklist for what they want in a man.

Women do not like neediness in a man ever.

Women want a guy who wants to have success in life.

Women aren’t into hyper masculine men anymore; it is fading away in every country.

You have to find someone who is very like-minded with energy levels and motivation.

Women expect you to be good at texting.

Women get bothered if you don’t text them daily.

Work a service job, offer some sort of service really anything such as a chef.

This is kind of obvious don’t work a dead-end job. If you work in retail then be a manager making at least $18.

Work real estate, women love guys like that.

Working a manual labor job is not a good route. Some women are into it, most don’t care for it especially since they worry for your safety. If the job is a mechanic, you should be good though.

You need to be at least somewhat masculine; women appreciate this. If she is a good amount into masculinity, that is a woman you would want to be with.

If a woman wants to talk about the past, do so but only for so long.

As a woman how she feels about something, she loves this.

If you appreciate her, she will appreciate you. It is that simple.

Women want you to be open.

Show that you want to better yourself in some way to a woman.

Women want you to be mature.

You need to show a woman that you are independent.

Talk about past memories with a woman. This is important.

You have to put some sort of effort into your looks including your attire to get a woman, she will notice this when you first see her it is one of the things she sees.

Women are attracted to guys who take risks.

Bring up the article or news that she would find interesting.

Don’t put her at too high of an esteem.

Don’t make promises you cannot keep.

Be reliable.

If she says all of her ex’s are crazy, that means she has bad judgement…….lol

Women like suits the best on us men.

Women like when your sleeves are rolled up.

Be direct.

Use metaphors.

Be taller than the woman.

Most women find smoking unattractive. 56% said they wouldn’t even date a smoker. I didn’t know this until recently. If you have to then, vape.

A good place to go for a date is one that has smoothies.

Find something that the woman could talk about forever and she will always take interest in. This may or may not be difficult.

You want a woman that makes you a better person.

Be relatable.

Know what you want, women find this very attractive.

Don’t bounce from one topic to the next. Ask her follow up questions. I would say to stay on one topic for no more than 30 minutes at a time.

Always show patience. Show her that she is part of your life, nothing more than that.

Compliment the job she does, her passions, her knowledge, and her friends as examples.

Try to find things that are new, this one is tricky.

Women are into guys with finance.

Talk about what she looks forward to like events talk about them afterwards. Be positive about it, talk about how she had a good time and try to engage though you were not there for it.

If you show that you put in a good effort in a relationship to make it work with a woman, how could she possibly leave you?

Show a woman that when you have a goal in life, you achieve that goal not every goal but a good number of goals.

Show her what your interests are and find out what you have in common that you both can click about. Giver her a chance to do what she likes with you, maybe you will get something out of participating in it.

Women like men with watches.

If she fixes her hair around you, that could be a good sign, but if you ask me, it is not a definite since some women always fix their hair. I wouldn’t look too far into it.

Take her out to random places.

Women appreciate when you have one hand on the steering wheel.

Women appreciate when you have an open body posture.

Look for a woman that makes a good amount of money. Let me explain this, she knows guys do not want her. Guys want to make more than the woman. More importantly, she will eventually accept that a guy will not come along that makes near what she makes. She will see good in you because you want to be with her. This is unexpected for her to think this could work since most guys stay away from a girl that makes so much money.

Women want you to eat desert on a date. Invite them to desert so it doesn't seem like you are in a rush to get out, don't want to spend the money, or think it is not necessary.

On a date, don't just let her win a game like mini golf. Don't dominate her either in the game.

Women like bald men.

Women don't like flip flops for us guys.

When she gets her nails done, compliment them during a date.

When you go to a store, ask her if she wants any snacks.

Listen to her podcasts on relationships that she sends you.

82% of women who hit on men first end up marrying the guy.

The women that were ugly in high school make the best wives because they had to develop their personalities.

Women do not care what age us guys are.

Women do not like getting space at all. Most times they will return when it is done to them.

Go swimming with a girl.

Open a jar for her if she asks.

If you are good at this, make her a playlist of her favorite music she likes.

Women don't like if our phones are cracked or old.

Women don't like cheap glasses or sunglasses on us guys.

Go to a farmers' market with her.

Go to a tailgate with her.

Go rock climbing with her.

Go for ice cream for a second date with a woman.

Go to a food truck.

Go to an arcade with a woman.

Go to an art gallery with her.

Go mini golfing with her.

Go canoeing with her.

Go bike riding with her.

Women like us guys with a tan.

Listen to a podcast she listens to in order to talk about it.

If she’s into art, talk to her about it.

Women like white teeth.

If a woman gives a lot of words like “yeah” or “k” in text messages, she’s most likely not into you.

If she is talking about her ex, it is because she’s not over it, she thinks you are her friend where she is not into you, or she has no female friends to talk to. If she does this, tell her she has to stop.

If she says she is busy for the next couple of weeks, she is not into you.

If she never asks you questions, she is probably not into you.

If she keeps rescheduling, she is not into you.

If she calls you a friend, you know automatically she is not into you.

If she doesn’t ask you questions, she is not into you.

If she doesn’t talk about anything serious with you then she’s trying not to get invested with you, she’s not into you.

If she always brings her friends around when you are with her, she’s not into you.

If she ends early on a date, she most likely is not into you.

If she makes no effort to make time with you, then she’s not into you.

If she says, “I am not ready for a relationship”, that means she’s not into you.

If she never takes photos with you, she’s not into you.

If she says, “oh he’s such a nice guy”, she’s not into you.

If she talks to you for the day one day and then doesn’t respond the next, she’s playing you, she’s not into you.

If she always introduces you as her friend around others, she’s not into you.

If she isn’t interested in getting to know more about you, she isn’t into you.

If she is not putting in effort to make plans with you and it’s been weeks, she’s not into you. She has to reach out in some way, and you will see it.

She is not into you if she doesn’t want you talking to her friends.

If a woman is on her phone most of the time during the date, she is not into you or not worth dating.

If a woman lives at home with her family, then skip her. Unless she moved in with her family for a short time to save on rent.

If she’s cheated in the past and she was past age 20 when she did, then just skip her. You don’t have to skip, I personally would.

If a woman does not want you to see her without her makeup on and keeps preventing such from happening, skip her.

If she says “I dunno” a lot, then skip her.

If she says “I don’t like to be single”, then skip her.

If she’s high on gossip, then skip her.

If she finds flaws in every small thing, then skip her.

If she needs to spend all her time with you, then if she doesn’t get it, she will look elsewhere. If she wants no time alone, then skip her.

If a woman only talks about herself, that means she doesn’t care about anyone or anything but herself, skip her.

If she criticizes you in public, skip her. No exceptions. This means she has no respect for you.

If a woman disrespects her father, then skip her.

If she cannot make up her mind as to what field to go into for work, then skip her.

If she cannot explain her emotions and chooses to show them instead, then skip her.

If she take everything personally, then skip her.

If a woman says, “I want the right man”, then skip her.

If a girl keeps taking your belonging meaning she doesn’t buy her own food, then skip her, she isn’t independent.

If she keeps asking you how much money you make where it is early on, then skip her.

Skip going to a bar early on for a date. Don’t go to a formal dinner for a first date, you don’t know if you like her yet. Don’t take her to your place until after the third date. Go for coffee or a walk on a first date. If she expects to go out for dinner on a first date, then skip her.

If a woman goes out to the club every week and says it is “girls’ night out” and she won’t let you go along, she is seeking validation from other guys. Skip her.

If a woman is fake, then skip her. It could work, but don’t bother, she most likely will not be able to offer you something. If a woman is fake, it is obvious, you will know it.

If she is non-committal after the first few dates, then don’t bother.

If she is constantly criticizing you, she wants you to become someone you are not, skip her.

If a girl doesn’t have any friends, then skip her. Don’t bother with her at all.

After she denies going on a date with you, don’t bother anymore.

If she reads your texts behind your back, this is a very bad sign.

If the smallest things you do bother her, she doesn’t want to be with you, leave her.

If she goes on a vacation with friends, just tell her that her vacation interests you, that you would think of going if possible. Don’t ask to go because most likely she will say no.

Don’t ask a woman out on a date right after you just met her.

If she has no words to describe her and that she lets her friends decide for her if they want to. That’s not a leader in any way, skip on a woman like that.

If she acts the same around you as she does other people that is not a good sign that she’s into you. It could mean that it is her personality though.

If she goes clubbing a good amount on the weekends, then skip her.

Ask her what her plans are on a date on careers, family, and future. Don’t ask if there will be a second date, on the second date you can ask if they want kids or not.

Do not ask a woman about her job during a date since she just got done and wants to be entertained, she doesn’t want to talk about it, if she does, she will mention it to talk about it for a small amount of time.

Do not ask a woman vague questions.

Do not ask a woman “why are you still single?”

Do not ask a woman what her weakness is unless if you’ve known her for a year.

Do not ask her where she is going out, try to avoid at all.

Do not go to the movies or watch Netflix on the first date. These are dates where there won’t be talking that much.

If you ask her out on a date and she says no, then you will know she was just being nice to you. If she says yes, she was into you.

Don’t share much about yourself early on to a woman.

If she picks something out while shopping, don’t tell her it isn’t something she should purchase.

Don’t tell her “You must be angry.”

Avoid telling a woman “Just don’t think about it.”

Try to avoid saying “you never” and saying, “you always.”

Try to avoid telling a woman “Just don’t think about it.”

Try to avoid using the word “let’s.”

Try to not use the word “divorce” in a marriage.

If she says “k” in a text message, she is most likely upset.

If she says in a text message “I will let you know” without saying anything afterwards, she’s not going to tell you.

If she sends “whatever” in a text message, it is a bad sign.

If she acts the same around you as she does around other people, that is not a good sign.

If a woman says she “needs space”, that is not a good sign.

If she says “that’s good” in a text message, it isn’t something positive.

If she texts you “I will let you know”, she will not get back to you.

If she sends you “mmk” in a text she doesn’t believe you at all with what you are saying there.

If she texts you “I will let you know”, it won’t happen unless she is being specific.

Women get upset when they are misquoted.

Women don’t like guys who act one way around one person and a completely different way around another.

Women don’t like hearing that they look better with makeup on.

If you take a lot of photos of yourself, women don’t like this.

Women don’t like crop photos.

Women do not want a guy who apologizes to them. Women don’t even realize it unless if it is brought up by them.

Most women do not like when it is raining.
